

MSc Psychology

Psychology is the key to understanding and modifying human behaviour and development. Our master covers a very wide range of areas, offers 10 tracks and a lot of room for your individual preferences.

- Applied Cognitive Neuroscience (EN) cognitive brain functions: perception, attention, memory, and learning
- Applied Social Psychology (EN) social psychological factors determining human behaviour
- Clinical Forensic Psychology and Victimology (EN) the psychology of violence and crime in offender and victim contexts
- Clinical Neuropsychology (EN) and Klinische Neuropsychologie (NL) assessment and treatment of cognitive brain disorders
- Environmental Psychology (EN) the human dimension of environmental and energy-related problems, development of effective interventions to address these problems
- Klinische Psychologie (NL) theory, diagnosis and treatment of mental disorders
- Ontwikkelingspsychologie (NL) developmental processes across the life-span
- Talent Development and Creativity (EN) talent and creativity in individuals and organisations across achievement domains
- Theory and History of Psychology (EN) critical assessment of psychological theories and methods through philosophical and historical research
- Work, Organizational and Personnel Psychology (EN) factors influencing people's emotions and behaviour at work and consequences
- DDM Sustainability and Environmental Psychology (EN): how to address this century's key challenges, such as climate change, migration, and polarization, in a way that is sustainable, resilient and with a long-term perspective?

Information is subject to change. Please check the website for up-to-date information

Psychologists often find work in mental healthcare institutions. They can intermediate between research and clinical practice. They can be adviser or consultant. You may also find them in companies and organizations, where they assess and select new personnel, or train employers. It is also possible to do research at a university or a private research institute.

Application deadlines

www.rug.nl/gmw/psychology/education/master/application-admission-and-selection

Tuition fees

www.rug.nl/masters/psychology/#!tuitionfee

Duration

1 year

Entry requirements

www.rug.nl/gmw/psychology/education/master/application-admission-and-selection