

university of groningen

groningen center for social complexity studies

Third seminar Groningen Center for Social Complexity Studies

June 27, 2014

Location: Donald Smitszaal, Center for Information Technology, Groningen

11:00: Welcome – Wander Jager

11:10: Koen Frenken: What does complexity theory teach us about innovation, diffusion and (sustainability) transitions?

12:10: Lunch & project posters

13:30: Kirsten ten Tusscher: The complex life of plants

14:15: Henderien Steenbeek : Dynamic models and empirical data: a happy marriage?

15:00: teabreak

15:30: Harmen de Weerd: The effectiveness of higher-order theory of mind in negotiations

16:00: Ivan Puga: Empathy versus parsimony in understanding post-conflict affiliation in monkeys: Model and empirical data

16:30: Erika Speelman: Farmer's decision-making in a complex world

17:00: closure

17:15: drinks & project poster

Registration: send an e-mail to Astrid Beerta a.beerta@rug.nl

If you would like to present your work we invite you to bring a poster. Please inform us beforehand so we can prepare the space for posters.

Please indicate if you plan to come by car so we can arrange for reserved parking lot.